

Try out the new style of remote work ... Allworx® Interact™ Softphone.

Allworx has been on the front lines of business communications systems facilitating remote work for about 20 years – and for many business users, Interact Softphone is the ultimate breakthrough to complete mobility.

The new Interact® Softphone includes all of the features of Allworx's Interact software client – engineered to integrate with the award-winning Verge® deskphones – without the need for any phone hardware at all. Now you can work remote with just your laptop – plus all the Allworx features that make it so easy to work well, such as a flexible, feature-rich user interface with current call status, call history, call recording, busy lamp field indications, presence setting capability and presence status of other users. Use all the features you have on the office Allworx system from your remote location.

Take advantage of the integration features including easy access to internal and external contacts, Microsoft Outlook, receive Salesforce screenpops and dial out using the application database, and much more.

It's easy to use and very powerful, with features like Click to Dial, drag and drop functionality – users can even use the recently introduced Park to Extension feature by dragging and dropping calls onto a specific extension. And one softphone license covers you – whether you're on the road with a laptop or in the office.

Work remote ... and work well.

"It's been a terrific productivity tool for us. We're often at meetings both on and off-site, and it's great to be able to stay connected and manage our phone calls and voice mails easily – no matter where we are"

– Jeff Kitner, North Dallas Chamber of Commerce, Chief Operating Officer
